consequent defeat of any attempted relief from oppressive laws.

We denounce as non-compatible with the honest and efficient administration of affairs of this great city the alliance of hostile and warring factions, differing widely in political belief and coming together with no purpose but to obtain possession of office. The present conduct of city affairs in this metropolis should serve as an object lesson to all citizens who purpose to exercise the right of suffrage at the ensuing election. It would be far transcending the decorous limitations which should be observed in a platform to set forth the epithets which have been employed to denounce the present administration of New York city by practically each one of the factions which have been employed to denounce the present administration of New York city by practically each one of the factions which has then a year ago placed it in power. Suffice it to call attention so the fact that no convention yet held in the county of New York has been bold enough to endorse it or refer to it as efficient or satisfactory. We leave it to the criticism of those who were but yesterday its friends.

"We favor the enforcement of law, but protest against and denounce the discrimination that has been made between the rich and poor in the severe, oppressive, and unintelligent exercise of power by the Police Board of this city.

"Every citizen accused of violating the law is entitled to a fair trial, uninfluenced by popular clamor or prejudice, and we protest against any prearranged sentences by the Judges of our courts or any tyrannical effort to terrorize citizens from the exercise of any of their rights.

"The Democratic party now is, as it has ever been, strictly in favor of a respectful observance of Sunday, by abstaining on that day from all save necessary employment, and yet, mindful of the rights of every citizen to the enjoyment of worship, comfort, and recreation according to his own conscience and wishes, as far as compatible with a due regard to the beliefs and desires of others, it favors the immediate enactment by the next Legislature of a modification of the present oppressive excise laws, and in addition promises to propose to and endeavor to obtain from the coming Legislature a law which will enable this community to determine for itself by popular vote whether the sale of food, beverages, and all necessaries shall be permitted on the first day of the week during certain prescribed hours and in a manner so restricting as not to interfere with religious observances.

The references to the national Administration, the action of the Police Board in enforcing the Excise law, and particularly the spy system which has grown out of it, were received with about an equal amount of applause. The biggest demonstration followed the statement that the Chamber of Commerce, which has been interfering in local politics for the past two years, was chartered by king George III.

The resolutions were adopted and all the candidates named above were nominated by acclamation. The only signs of disapproval manifested themselves when the vote was taken on Mr. MacLean's name. Although there were many noes heard from all sides of the hall, Chairman Sulzer declared the nomination unanimous. The nomination of ex-Recorder Smyth by Assistant District Attorney Bartow S. Weeks evoked hearty cheers for this veteran Tammany warrior.

by Assistant District Attorney Bartow S. Weeks evoked hearty cheers for this veteran Tammany warrior.

The ticket as nominated in the evening was determined on finally at a meeting of the Executive Committee held at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Three candidates besides those who were presented to the Convention were named to the Executive Committee. They were Charles W. Dayton, named by Andrew J. White for Justice of the Supreme Court; Jacob Marks, presented by Thomas J. Dunn as a candidate for Justice of the City Court, and Assistant District Attorney John F. McIntyre for Judge of the Court of General Sessions by Lawrence Delmour. These nominations were all referred to a nominating committee composed of John C. Sheshan, James J. Martin, Patrick Keenan, Augustus W. Peters, Michael C. Murphy, William E. Stillings, Martin T. McMahon, and James P. Keating. This committee reported back in favor of the ticket which was nominated, but expock Commissioner White insisted on a vote on the question of nominating Postmaster Dayton. When the vote was taken it was found that there were but four and a half out of thirty-five who favored Mr. Dayton's nomination, and it was agreed by Mr. White that under the circumstances no attempt should be made to get Mr. Dayton's name Brore the Convention. The districts which voted in favor of Mr. Dayton in the Executive Committee were the Fifth, Nixth, Seventh, Thirty-first, and one-half of the Twentetch.

G. A. R. U. WITH TAMMANY.

The Vote 3 to 1 in an Uproartons Conven-tion-Officeholders Downed, The German-American Reform Union is with Tammany Hall and a liberal Sunday law. Not only with it, but with it by a big majority. Last night, a few minutes before midnight, after three Lours of the stormiest meeting the organization ever had and by all odds the stormlest political neeting held this year, not excepting the Republican primaries, the organization voted by at least 3 to 1 and probably 4 to 1 to endorse the Democratic State ticket and the Tammany Hall local ticket. It was a rising vote, but in the uproar there was no chance to count heads or to was that the proportion in favor of Tammany was very large, and if the Hon. Edward Lauterbach did get any assurance that the organiza-tion would "fuse," and nominated a fusion ticket on the strength of that assurance, he purchased the biggest kind of a gold brick. The Garoos began getting together in the saloon down under the hall at 8 o'clock. There were two kegs of enthusiasm on the bar, and the crowd tackled them. They talked in German and shook their fists and swore long German swear words, but when any reporter asked them what was going to happen the answer was. ich weiss nicht." The gayety of the occasion was added to by the appearance of a small boy armed with circulars. He said he came from Mr. Preble Tucker of the Goo Goos. Mr. Tucker had told him to give one of the circulars to each "German-looking gentleman" who ap-peared at the hall. The circular submitted the Goo Goo excise plank with the legend: "This Is

The body of the hall was full when Dr. H. A C. Anderson called the meeting to order. The C. Anderson called the meeting to order. The Doctor started out by saying, "Now, we must have quiet. I don't want any excitement, no matter what may happen. Keep quiet."

There was a motion to dispense with the roll call. Deputy Collector Rausch jumped up and staiked up the asile shaking his fists. He declared that, the hall was full of beople who had no love for the organization.

"They are here spying," he said, "and we must put them out."

The whole crowd jumped up and demanded a roll call with him. It was called.

A report from the Syracuse Convention was roll call with him. It was called.

A report from the Syracuse Convention was dispensed with—128 to #3. Dr. Senner, who was recognized as the leader of the anti-Tampany forces, strode up the aisle, and, waving both hands in the air, yelled out a challenge of the vote. He said he wanted the Garoos to know how "shamefully" they had been treated by the Democratic Committee on Resolutions when they presented an excite conference for the process. shen they presented an excise plank for the

There were yells of derision, cheers, and cat-calls. In the middle of it all Herman hidder jumped up and demanded that Senner should be heard. Half the 300 people in the room were on their feet, waving their arms frantically and screaming. Dr. Senner was not a Garoo dele-gate to Syracuse, and the howling was to down him.

There was a semblance of order in fifteen minutes, and then internal Revenue Collector Greisse stalked down the middle aisle, waving aloft a handful of paper. It was the breamble and resolution endorsing the State ticket and the Tammany candidates for county offices. The yelling and cheering was renewed for two minutes; then Mr. Grosse got a chance and he read the resolution. They say:

"The German-American Reform Union reiterates hereby its steadiast loyalty to the princiates hereby its steadiast loyalty to the princi-ples contained in its platform and its deter-mination to labor also in the future for their mination to lator also in the future for their reclination.

"The Reform Union would undoubtedly again at an in line with the elements of our population, which in the fail of last year led the reform movement to a glorious ausciess, if one of said elements, the Republican party, had not at its State Convention proclaimed itself as the advocate of the odious, puritanical 'blue laws,' if Mayor strong, its foramest representative in our manicipal Government, had not approved and encouraged the strict enforcement of said 'blue laws,' and if the Bolice Commissioner appointed by him, Mr. Rossevelt, had not enforced the said laws, and especially the Sunday closing provision of our Excise law in an unreasonably extreme, violent, and partial manner. These laws are an emanation of the puritanic-theoretic idea of government, and are in diametric opposition to our democratic republican principles; they are a violation of the personal and religious liberty guaranteed by our State and Federal Constitutions, and form one of the greatest impetiments in the process of analizamating the different nationalities which constitute one population into one nation.

Whee last year the German-American Reinto one nation, en last year the German-American Re-nion enthusiastically declared uself to When hist year the termina-American ite-form Union enthusiastically declared likelf in favor of the Committee of seventy licket, it had obtained from Mayor Strong the most binding assurances of his assistance in securing a liberal enforcement and a mathication of the stat law, because we knew too well that the tier-man-American voters would not otherwise have been won for the said ticket. These assurances have been shamelessly violated by Mayor Strong, and his Police Commissioner. Roosevelt, prompted by his sense of infallibility, has to all the protests, to all the arguments against his narrow-inholed construction of the Sunday provision of our Excise law, made only the one reply: 'Fiat justitia, et perent mundus.' I don't give a rap for the consequences, The law will be enforced as I understand it, and every one who opposes my conception of the law is an ally of criminals, a demagague, an Abarchist, a dishonest man.'

"The vigor with which the German-American Reform Union supported the ticket of the Committee of Seventy is a sufficient refutation of the siander that the German-Americans place their Sunday beer above everything else. We are not agitated so much by the material as by the ideal aspect of the question. The present Sunday law is a serious violation of personal liberty, and for the liberal modification of the sianew of the above the Heral modification of the same we shall struggle with the same devotion as thirty years ago for the abolition of the slavery of the blacks. It is an irrepressible conflict, and the common sense, the progressive spirit of the American people, assures us that we shall emerge victoriously from the struggle. We do not want a desecration of the Sabbath, but neither do we want a Sunday tyranny. We are ready and willing to conclude a reasonable compromise with our opponents, which will take the 'drink question' out of our politics, and which will enable us to devote our energies to the solution of other important problems of political economy.

"It it is to be regretted that the German-American Reform Union cannot remain neutral in the present campaign, and it can with easy conscience submit to the force of the situation, in view of the fact that the Justices and officials to be elected at the ensuing election will have comparatively little influence upon our municipal affairs.

The reading of these was greeted with continuous cheering and hissing. The Garoos jumped up and down in their excitement and tipped over the chair. When the ticket was reached there were howls of "No." "Yes." "Brave." that kept up for several minutes more. At the conclusion every man seemed beside himself. A man named Hangel and Emanuel Pearl followed Mr. Grosse, and then Tax Commissioner Sutrogot the floor. The crowd cheered him and then hooted. He followed the beaten path up and down the middle aisle in an agitated state. When it beame quiet enough he made a speech against the resolution. The Garoos had been fooled once, he said, and they should not be again. Every sentence he uttered was howled at and cheered at, and he strode on up and down as he talked. He wound up by offering a resolution to endorse neither ticket, but vote for the best men.

Dr. Senner talked for the Sutro resolution, while the crowd yelled "County Democracy" at him.

Herman Ridder followed him. Mr. Ridder declared that he had never voted for Tammany Hall in his life, but he proposed to do it this year, and he gave his reasons, Hesalied into the State Democracy, Dr. Senner, Mr. Sutro, and all. He declared that they went to Syracuse to create Democratic disunion, that they didn't want representation at all, and that what the State Convention offered them was certainly more than they deserved. than they deserved.
"Sutro don't dare be with Tammany because he has a job," yelled a man.
The next thirty speakers were not so interesting. "Can't you haul them off and vote," one man appealed to Dr. Anderson.
"How can we," asked the Doctor.
"More the previous question," suggested the appealant.

appealant.
The Doctor shock his head. "We have no previous question," he said. "We are like the United States Senate in talking matters."
As the last man finished there were veils from all over the hall of "abstimmung," which means "yete".

all over the hall of "abstimming," which means "vote."

Mr. Sutro tried to make another speech. He got out in the slale. He was shrrounded in an instant by men shaking their fists and screaming, and he shook his fist and screamed. Up on the platform Chairman Anderson was nounding the table with all his might. At one side of him was Dr. Friedrich making a speech at the top of his voice, and on the other the secretary yelling out another speech and staking his fists.

On the final vote—a rising vote—half the delegates leaped up on chairs, kicking and screaming and waving hats and coats. A dozen or twenty who didn't climb on the chairs picked up the chairs and waved them. The people on the stage danced around. A crowd surrounded Herman Itidder and hugged him and patted his cheeks and nearly pumped his hand off.

AGREEMENTS WITH THE GERMANS. It Had Undertaken,

The Executive Committee of the United Sosiettes for Liberal Sunday Law met in the Aston House yesterday. Most of these gentlemen are Garoos. It was announced at this meeting that the Tammany Hall leaders had agreed to name men of the societies' selection for Assemblymen, Among them was Otto Kempner, who was nominated as an independent candidate for Senator the other night. He was to be nominated in the Tenth Assembly district, Jacob A Mittnacht in the Sixth, and Herman Sulzer in the Thirty-fourth Patrick J. Andrews had already been nominated for the societies in the Twenty-sixth. Mr. Sulzer is proprietor of Sulzer's Harlem River Park, and has been interfered with in his Sunday beer business very materially.

The agreement, so far as Tammany Hall was concerned, was faithfully carried out as to Kempner and Mittnacht, they being nominated by acclamation last night, aithough Kempner is anything but liked by the Tammany men in the Twentieth.

by acciamation last flight, although Kempher is anything but liked by the Tammany men in the Twentieth.

The delivery of the goods in the Thirty-fourth district was prevented. Leader Jacob Seabold appeared before the Convention which was held in the Harlem Temple and told of the arrangement to name Suizer la return for the support of the United Societies.

Its said it was the wishes of the leaders in Fourteenth street that Suizer be nominated. This speech did not avail to turn the friends of Bernard Maloue from their purpose to nominate him. A ballot was taken, and Suizer was beaten by 32 to 31.

The United Societies wanted only legislative candidates. The Garoos wanted other offices as well, Dr. H. A. C. Anderson, President of the Garoo General Committee, wanted to run for Register. It is bald that he will be appointed Deputy Register in case of Mr. Sohmer's election. The Deputy Register gets a salary of $5,000. The Commissioners of Accounts have reported that the office is superfluous, and the Board of Estimate is considering the advisability of abolishing it or reducing the salary.

The fact that the Shoats Zeitung had nothing to say editorially yesterday morning regarding the local political situation is explained by a statement that the editorial writers went on atrike because after spending all summer abusting Roosevelt and reform they did not care to stulity themselves.

The Independent County Organization held Its County Convention in Cooper Union last night, and, after deciding to nominate a straight county ticket of its own, adjourned without naming its candidates. In the preamble of the resolutions adopted they say that they couldn't endorse either the Tammany or the Fusion tickets, and they therefore determined to look to the legisative nominations and the Legislature for relief from unequal and oppressive sumptuary laws and to nominate a complete fourth ticket unconditionally committed to these two propo-

First-The passage of a law permitting the sale of beer and wine in cities of the first class in the State of Now York oh Sundays, and second—The passage of an act permitting in the cities of the first class of the State of N. w York the sale of food and other necessaries of life on Sundays.

The Convention recommended the appointment of a committee of thirty-five, "to take such action as a loyal support of the nominees of this organization may demand, and to bring about such support of legislative candidates pledged to the principle of personal liberty as may be fitting and desirable."

Alexander Fremer, President of the Musical Protestiye Union, presside, and, after paying his respects to Tamimany Hall, Mayor Strong and the Republicat party, he had this to say about Dr. Psykhurst:

Excise Commissioner Julius Harburger talked about "Rooseveltian oppression." Commissioner Harburger said that when Aifred steckler's name had been submitted to Tammany Hall for one of the Supreme Court Judgeships it had been rejected. "A would-be old dude," said Commissioner Harburger, "by the name of Hmyth, one of the big family of Smiths, said that Steckler's name should not go on the ticket and refused to give his reasons for objecting."

Ex-Senator John G. Boyd talked on liberal Sunday laws and so did ex-School Commissioner Schmidt. A Nominating Committee consisting of one man from each Assembly district was appointed and the Convention adjourned. It was said that Julius Harburger would probably be the candidate for County Clerk and Alexander Bremer for Register. dictate to the citizens of New York how they

BULLETIN TO DEMOCRATS.

New York and Kings Loyal to the State The Democratic State campaign is now in full swing. Chairman James W. Hinkley of Pough-keepsie arrived at the headquarters, 27 Madison evenue, yesterday afternoon, and he was soon foined by ex-Congressman Perry Belmont, the Treasurer of the committee, who came from Lenox. The two campaigners had their heads together for an hour or two, and later on Chairman Hinkley issued the following bulletin to the Democratic voters in the State:

the Democratic voters in the State:

The Democratic party in the cities of New York and Brooklyn is firmly united in support of the splendid State ticket nominated at the Syracuse Convention. A public declaration to that effect has been made by the leaders and officers of the various Democratic organizations in both cities. Whatever differences there may be between those organizations, they are wholly confined to local nominations and local preferences. There is not the slightest tinge of disloyalty in the State ticket among the Democrate of New York and Brooklyn. On the contrary, the leaders and their followers vie with each other in their assurances that they will do their utmost to give a large majority in New York and Brooklyn for the State ticket.

The rivalry between the various Democratic organizations in the two cities on local nominations will have the effect of bringing out a larger Democratic vote. The rivalry is all the greater this year on account of the high hopes entertained of Democratic success locally and throughout the State.

Our friends in the other parts of the State.

entertained of Democratic success locally and throughout the State.

Our friends in the other parts of the State may be encouraged by the assurance that the Democrats of New York and Brooklyn will do their whole duty toward the State ticket and will give it an old-time majority. On the other hand, the Republicans in both cities are hopelessly demoralized on State issues and their State ticket. The revolt against the man from Tloga has attained such dimensions that it cannot but be felt very seriously at the poils. The Tioga has attained such dimensions that it cannot but be felt very seriously at the polls. The most influential Republican organizations are in rebellion against him, and the most ardent reformers denounce him publicly. It can be safely asserted that among large numbers of Republicans in New York and Brooklyn there is a postive coldness and indifference toward the Saratoga State ticket. The Democrats are, on the contrary, enthusiastic and anxious to do their duty toward the unassailable State ticket nominated at Syracuse. There will be no faitering at the polls among Democrats at this end of the State. Their differences are solely on local questions.

Chairman Hinkley appointed John A. Mason Chairman of the Executive Committee, Mr. was a deputy collector in the Custom House in Mr. Cleveland's first Administration, and in Mr. Cleveland's first Administration, and two years ago Gov. Flower appointed him as one of the Commissioners to assess State taxes. Chairman Hinkley also announced the Exceutive Committee, who will be his chief advisers during the campaign. They are: Excongressman Plantel N. Lockwood of Eris, Daniel Tomlinson of Genesee, Gen. George Magee of Steuben, Matthew Arnot of Chemung, ex-Civil Service Commissioner D. F. Van Vleet of Tompkina, Greaville Kane of Orange, Cord Meyer of Queens, James MacMahon of Kings, and J. Hampden Robb, John A. Mason, John R. Abney of the Southern Society of New York, Senator John Fox, ex-Senator William L. Brown, Jacob Ruppert, Jr., Jefferson M. Levy, ex-Police Justice Henry Murray, and John Spellman of New York.

New York.
Chairman Hinkley said that already much of Chairman Hinkley said that already much of the preliminary work of the campaign had been begun. The Democratic county Chairmen all oves the State had met him at the Murray Hill Hotel on several occasions, and in all of the districts the very best representatives of the Democratic party had been nominated for Assemblymen and Senators. All of the county Chairmen have been furnished with sample ballots. Senator Hill will make a number of speeches in the campaign. The dates have not yet been arranged, but from this time on the Democrats, it was announced, propose to make one of the best battles within the memory of this generation. All the talk at Democratic headquarters yesterday was to the effect that the battle this fall in the State must be won for its effect on the Presidential campaign next year.

THE BROOKLYN CAMPAIGN. Republican Linton Says His Party Robbed Him-Various Nominations,

At the regular Democratic headquarters in Brooklyn yesterday it was stated that a num "Reformer" Shepard's supporters had already appropried their intention of supporting Edward M. Grout, the regular candidate

William H. McCabe, a delegate to the Genera Committee of the Shepard Democracy from the Twenty-seventh district of the Twenty-second ward, resigned from that body vesterday. In doing so Mr. McCabe asserts vigorously that Mr. Shepard has not the support of masses," and that their votes will go to Edward M. Grout, who did his public duty without re muneration. Mr. McCabe promises to make it warm for Mr. Shepard's candidacy.

A letter was published from S. M. Shepard and Charles J. Patterson giving their account of the conference with the regular Democrats before the Brooklyn City Convention. Mr. Shepard declares that he did not suggest his own name to the regulars as a candidate for the Mayoralty.

Frederick W. Wurster, the Republican candidate for Mayor, will send his letters of accentance to the Chairman of the City Convention to-day. With his formal acceptance, it is expected he will resign his office as Commiss of the Brooklyn Fire Department.

East New York, who is also one of the Greater New York Commissioners, was defeated last night in his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Senator in the Ninth district. The nomination was originally slated for Julius L. Wieman, who served in the last Legislature from the Eighteenth Assembly district. Linton developed remarkable strength in the Conven-tion held on Saturday night, but the delegates adjourned in an uproar, and no nomination was made.

adjourned in an uproar, and no nomination was made.

Linton fooled the district with a circular asking these questions: Will Brooklyn Republicans sanction the stealing of a nomination from any man in a Republican Convention? Will Republicans stand any . cKaneism? He asserted that at the Saturday night Convention he required 139 votes to sin, got 149, according to the taily sheets, but that the Republican Chairman closed the "deal box" and fied.

At the adjourned Convention last night in the Labor Lyceum but one ballot was taken, and the vote was as follows: Julius W. Wieman, 159; Henry Walfert, 12; Edward F. Linton, 67; Charles Wehr, 34.

The result was disappointing to Linton's frienda, and it is said that Linton will run on an independent ticket. The Denmeratic candidate in the Ninth Senate district is Frastus D. Benedict, a lawyer of the Twenty-third ward.

The Shepard Democrats last night nominated Senator Daniel Bradley as their candidate for Senator in the Third district. Twenty-eight of the sixty-seven votes cast went for Francis J. Gallagher, the nominee of the regular Democracy. The Shepard Democracy in the Seventh district nominated John H. Sheidt for Senator.

The following Aidermanio candidates were nominated last night:

REGULAR DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES.

HUDSON COUNTY DEMOCRATS. Candidates for Assembly and Senate Named

The Democratic open primaries in Hudson county for the nomination of candidates for Senator and Assemblymen were held last night under the new regulations. The nominations are made on a general ticket in the same man ner as the elections are held; that is, the candidates for Assembly are voted for throughout the entire county instead of by districts, as the entire county Instead of by districts, as heretofore.

There was no opposition to the renomination of Senator William Daly, and there were not many opposing candidates for the Assembly nominations. The nominees are: Senator, William Daly: Assembly, Richard Smart renominated), Carl Ruempler, John E. Hewitt, Edward Hoos, Pierce Fleming (renominated), Joseph P. Mullen, David Cagney (renominated), William N. Parslow (renominated), Edward R. Stanton.

There is a contest in the Third district between James D. Mauning and John Queen, and in the Eleventh district between Charles Bauer, George Bruce, James Casey, and Charles Chandler. The probability is that Manning and Bauer are the winners.

M'GILL BY AN OLD-TIME FOTE Ex-Senator Blodgett Is Sangulue of De ocratic Success,

The Executive Committee of the Democratic State Committee met yesterday in the committee's headquarters in Taylor's Hotel, Jersey City. Ex-Senator Rufus Hlodgett, who has been reported in all the Republican papers as having sulked and refused to take any part in the campaign, presided. He is particularly enthusiastic, and predicts that Chancellor McGill will be elected Governor by the old-time Democratic majority. Among those present were Eckerd Budd of Burlington, Henry Pane of Camden, Gen. Richard A. Donnelly of Mercer, and David S. Crater of Monmouth. There were many callers during the day, and all brought cheering news. WARNER MILLER-INDIANAPOLIS. Two Distressing Bits of News for the Republican Artful Dodgers.

Aft of the Republican farmers who are in ommand of their State battle at the Fifth Ave nue Hotel were annoyed yesterday when they were made aware that the Republicans of In dianapolis, the home of Gen. Harrison, had suffered the heaviest defeat in the history of the city in the municipal elections on Tuesday. The Republican overthrow was the result of the enforcement of laws against the personal liberty of the citizens of Indianapolis. This matter was called to the attention of Mr. Platt, and he was the only one who was not downcast among all the Republican farmers. He still believed that the Republican farmers. He still believed that Republicans would carry the State. But this man from Tioga is of rather an enthusiastic temperament where Republicanism is concerned, and ne turns his head when he is confronted with unpleasant news.

The efforts of the Platt managers to keep the Hon. Warner Miller bottled up won't work. The Platt managers have refused to give Mr. Miller an opening in the campaign, so that he might support the Kepublican plank for the "maintenance" of the Sunday laws. The Republican Club, of which Elihu Root is President, has invited Mr. Miller to speak at a mass meeting in Cooper Union on Tuesday evening next. Mr. Miller, it was said last night, will then diaste on the excise question. The Republicans at the Platt headquarters in the Fifth Avenue Hotel Platt headquarters in the Fifth Avenue Hote who heard this news put their hands over their

Under the blanket ballot law the Goo Goos have got for themselves just what they wanted every voter in the State to have—the intelligent man's ballot, a ballot on which they cannot vote their own county ticket straight by one pencil cross mark at the top, but must set a cross against the name of every candidate. The practical politicans of the Legislature insisted on giving straight-ticket men an easy job, but were willing to indict on independents all the bother the most pernicity of the independents loved to bestow up the voters at large. CUBA BOILING WITH REPOLT.

Senor Varona Says Cubans Are Heart and Seffor Henrique José Varona of Cuba, a writer on philosophy and literature and a prominent editor of an Autonomist paper, was interviewed on his arrival on Tuesday on the steamer Seneca from Havana as to the statement recently made by Senor Montero, another Autonomist. Mr. Varona contradicted pointedly the asser tions made by Mr. Montero, and declared that the revolution in Cuba, far from being insignificant, was a most serious movement, progressing rapidly, and daily gaining both in extent and strength. He said that if its onward march rapidly, and daily gaining both in extent and strength. He said that if its onward march was not checked, and for the present he did not see what could check it, it would reach before long all through the weatern extremity of the island. The Cuban people of that section were quite prepared for it, and if they had not yet risen it was for lack of means to do so.

The revolutionary spirit was so rampant, he said, that an outbreak might take place at any moment. Matanzas was a boiling caldron, and so was Clenfuccos and the other cities which apparently remained quiet. Mr. Varona said that he could count on the fingers of his hand the Cubans who were not heart and soul with the revolution, although many of them, unable to leave the place, were compelled to act as if they were on the Spanish side.

The Autonomist party, Mr. Varona said, had virtually dissolved. At Havana there was only a Central Committee, and even that committee may be said to be composed of only four men, one of whom is Montero. The others continue to appear as nembers because they do not see their way to withdrawing without giving rise to associons about their loyalty, a most serious matter just now. Outside of Havana the members of the Autonomist party have either joined the revolutionary forces or have left the country. Mr. Varona said he thought that the financial difficulties of Spain were beyond her strength, and he expressed faith in the success of the revolution.

CUSHMAN'S DYING STATEMENT. He Accuses Detective Jacgers of Having

The Newark saloon keeper, Cushman, whose death at the City Hospital while under arrest is reported elsewhere in THE SUN, made an antemortem statement, in which he accused Detective Julius Jaegers of causing his condition. Cushman's statement was made to Prosecutor Kane in the presence of City Attorney Cross, Jail Physician Chapman, and Warden Bovet. He accused Detective Jacgers of having poisoned him while he was locked in a cell at Police Headquarters on the afternoon of Sept. 28, the day of his arrest for perjury. He said that Jacgers passed his cell door during the afternoon, and, calling him a vile name, told him that he would kill him.

Later, according to Cushman's statement, he sent the doorman to a neighboring restaurant for a bowl of soup. Jacgers was on duty at the desk at the time. Shortly after drinking the soup Cushman was taken ill, and Police Surgeon Clark gave him a dose of medicine to relieve him. The next day he was taken to the jail and thence to the hospital.

Detective Jacgers's wife was buried yesterday afternoon and he could not be found last night. Cushman's statement received no credence. It is said that he secured some matches while in jail, and it is believed he may have soaked them in water and drank the liquid. The action of the authorities will depend on the result of the autopsy this morning.

TAILOR THIEVES CAUGHT. While One Man Gets Measured the Others Carry Off Goods.

Three store thieves were captured last night by Policeman Vincent J. Dowling of the Oak street station. Dowling saw three well-dressed young men walking along Pearl street, near Peck slip. As they saw him they increased their pace. So did Dowling, and he saw two bolts of cioth under the arms of one of them. He asked them where they got the cloth. They said, "At Dunham, Buckley & Co.'s, on William street." William street."
Policemen Clase and Binninger were called, and the three men were taken to the Oak street and the three men were taken to the Oak street station.

They said they were George Higgins of 114 Warren street, John Suilivan of 114 Prospect street, Brooklyn, and George Gore of 37 West Broadway.

Later Morris Goldstein, a tailor of John and Nassau streets, identified the cloth as his, and said that while he was measuring Higgins for a pair of trousers the other two men stole the cloth, which was worth $30.

He did not miss the cloth until two hours afterward, when notified by the police. A pair of trousers was also carried away.

Spiro, a tailor of Fulton street, complained last night to Acting Capitain Thompson that some of his goods had been stolen in the same manner yesterday.

who said she lived in West Thirty-fourth street, was in the room with Morris when be ended his life.

According to this woman she and Morris, who was only 10 years old, had been friends for many months. She met him on Broadway early Monday afternoon, and lunched with him at the St. James Riotel. In the evening they are with the st. James Riotel. In the evening they dined at the Hotel Logerot, and drank a great deal of wine, after which they went to Koster & Hail's. They drank a good deal during the performance, and when they got outside, Morris called a cab.

At Twenty-ninth street and Broadway he got saloon, the girl says. He was gone about fifteen minutes, and when he returned they drave to the hotel at 102 West Fifty-second street. On entering the room assigned to them Murris took a bottle from his pocket marked "Poison" and placed it upon the dressing case.

About 8 o'clock in the morning, the woman said, Morris awoke her and asked her if she would like to die with him.

"I have little to live for," she replied, "but I don't think I wish to die now."

Just before noon she awoke him, and when he got up he complained of being ill and said ha thought he had consumption.

"Some of this medicine will help me," he said, and after pouring some in a glass he added some water and drank the mixture. Then he came back to the bed, the woman said, and and asked her to hold his hand.

"My heart beats very fast," he said, and then his hand at once grew cold. When the woman iried to arouse him she found that he was dead. Coroner's Physician O'lisation made an autopsy yesterday morning, and he says he found prussic acid in Morris's stomach. The body was claimed by the dead man's brother-inlaw. Alexander F. W.
